Organisation of parliamentary work

Organised by the National Assembly and the Senate, in collaboration with the INSP

November 4th to
November 15th,
2024

Democracy is indeed a determinant factor for State's development and long-term stability, and remains the only system of governance in which people can fully realise their human rights. That is why reinforcement of parliamentary institutions is decisive, be it a matter of setting up newly elected assemblies or perfecting the running of existing institutions.

The aim of this programme is to better understand the organisation, missions and working methods of the French Parliament (National Assembly and Senate), and comparing them with other parliamentary systems, to improve the quality of parliamentary work and enhance parliamentary international cooperation.

Main goals

- Understand and compare the French parliamentary system
- Understand the roles of the different actors
- Produce analysis work in subgroups in a multicultural context
- Improve technical skills

Audience

- Parliamentary staff
- Stakeholders of the parliamentary work
- Other high-ranking civil servants

Practical information

Venue | INSP, 2, avenue de l'Observatoire, 75006 Paris
